

Playing a candy bar memory game is a great way to incorporate women's love of candy with a laugh-out-loud baby shower game. The game board is easy to make and the game will whisk your guests back to their childhood when they played the classic game of memory using cards on the floor.

Candy Bar Baby Shower Memory Game

One of the most fun laugh-out-loud games, the candy bar baby shower game can be played in several ways, but the most popular way is to play it as a memory game. You simply play this game like you played a classic childhood memory game. Just set up a poster board or cork board that measures 5 squares by 6 squares (total of 30 squares or 15 pairs of baby terms). You can use a yardstick and sharpie pen to draw straight lines while creating the grid. In each grid square, write one of the baby terms being sure to mix them all up (each term will appear twice within the grid). Then, pin or tape small construction paper squares with a number (1 through 30) on them over each grid square so that all the terms are covered up. Going around the room, each guest takes a turn by choosing 2 numbers. If they don't guess a matching pair, cover the 2 squares back up and the next person in line is up to guess. If they get a matching pair, they win the candy bar associated with the term. For instance, if they get the matching pair of 'breastfeeding' squares, they'd get a Milky Way candy bar as their prize. Be sure that you buy at least one of all the candy bars on the list so that you have a prize for each correctly guessed answer.

A game variation would be to list all the baby terms in a column down a sheet of paper with scrambled versions of the candy bars in a column down the right hand side of the paper. Make copies of the game sheets for all the guests. The goal would be to unscramble the candy bar words and match them to the correct baby terms. The person with the

BABY GIFTS & GIFT BASKETS

Display your candy bars that are prizes for the baby memory game by creating a candy bouquet. Just put some foam in a flower pot and buy some wooden sticks to tape on the back of each candy bar. Then, just arrange the candy in the pot with some tissue and curling ribbon.
